St. Damian Boat Tours Announces Opening of the 2026 Season in Split, Croatia

St. Damian Boat Tours officially announces the opening of its 2026 season, welcoming guests from around the world to experience the Adriatic coast from a local perspective. With several successful seasons behind it and a steadily growing international reputation, the company continues its mission of delivering safe, authentic and well-organized boat experiences departing from Split.

Since its founding, St. Damian Boat Tours has built its name on reliability, local knowledge and a straightforward approach to tourism. What began as a small, family-driven maritime project has developed into a trusted provider of private and group boat tours along the Dalmatian coast. Over the years, thousands of guests have explored nearby islands, hidden coves and historic seaside towns with the St. Damian crew.

Operating from Split, the company specializes in day trips and private charters to some of Central Dalmatia's most visited and appreciated locations, including the Blue Lagoon area near Drvenik Veli, the island of Šolta, and the island of Brač. Tours are designed to balance sightseeing, swimming, relaxation and local gastronomy, allowing guests to experience the region beyond crowded city centers.

Safety and professionalism remain at the core of the company's operations. All vessels are regularly maintained and equipped according to Croatian maritime regulations. Skippers are licensed, experienced and familiar with local sea conditions. Each tour is planned with flexibility in mind, taking into account weather patterns, sea traffic and guest preferences to ensure a smooth and enjoyable experience.

For the 2026 season, St. Damian Boat Tours continues to focus on quality over volume. The company offers a range of experiences including private boat charters for families and small groups, corporate outings and team-building events, as well as customized itineraries tailored to individual requests. The spacious and well-equipped boats provide a comfortable setting for both leisure travelers and companies seeking an alternative venue for meetings, celebrations or incentive programs.

The upcoming season also emphasizes sustainable and responsible tourism. Respect for the Adriatic Sea and the surrounding island communities remains a priority. Guests are encouraged to follow environmentally conscious practices while enjoying the natural beauty of the Dalmatian coastline.

Bookings for the 2026 season are now open through the official website:

Early reservations are recommended, especially for peak summer months.

As the new season begins, St. Damian Boat Tours remains committed to offering a dependable, relaxed and memorable way to explore Croatia's coast, not as a rushed excursion, but as a well-paced day at sea guided by people who know the waters best.
